YORKVILLE BELLE WINS A STAKE.

E. H. GARRISON'S WALLACE CAPTURES THE

Only a small number of peorde went down to Graves-end yesterday afternoon in the severe storm. The track was deep in mid, and there were many with-drawals. It was learned at the course that Fairview had broken down. It may be possible to patch him up for a race, but Mr. Ehret and colonel McLewee do not think it probable. The friends of the Ehret stable were disappointed in Don Alenzo's failure to win the Hudson Stakes for two year-olds, but this big fellow is awkward in getting around the turns. Moreover, he got off slowly and clumsily at the start. Isaac Murphy does not exhibit his best riding in short races, and he is not so quick as many other jockeys in getting his mounts away when the starter's flag falls. Don Alonzo showed high speed in this race, and ought to win important stakes on straight coarses. He was the favorite in the betting. The second choice was Gideon & Daly's unnamed colt by Kinglike out of Laura Gould, who was ridden by Sims, but he betrayed the confidence of his owners, who backed him confidently. Perhaps he may do better on a dry track. He certainly did miserably on this one. Wyndham Walden started Mendacity in place of the much more valuable Minnehaha, preferring not to give the best two year-old filly in the Morris stable a hard run in the mud. But Mendacity was badly beaten. E. H. Garrison, the jockey, has two youngsters by Kantaka. He races under the name of the Kantaka Stable. He has called the son of Kan-taka and Lucy Wallace by the name of Wallace, and as he could not quite get down to the necessary weight himself, he engaged Taral to ride Wallace, promising. himself, he engaged Paral to the won. He did it is said, to give him $500 if he won. He did win, and as the stake is worth more than $4,000, Garrison is happy. He told a number of his friends of the "good thing," and they all prof-ited by the information. Don Alonzo ran second, and Integrity, an extreme outsider from Nathan Straus's stable, was third.

Yorkville Belle came out, for the first time this ear, in the Guzelle Stakes for three-year-old, fillies. Madrid, Ragna and Ada Blue ran against her. With so feeble opposition it was a mere exercise gallop for the beautiful Belle, who is even handthan she was last year. In the first race the Empire Stable's Comanche

In the first race the Empire Stable's Comanche and Foxhall Keene's colt by Onondaga, out of Beatrice, carried most of the money, but neither got a place. The Madison Stable's filly, Courtship by Sir Modred, out of Trade Dollar, won easily, with W. C. Daly's Prince George Lorillard (that is the full and correct name of the Sensation—Louisette colt second, and Yarrow third. Edward Kelly, owner of the Madison Stable, had the worst of ill-fortune last year, and his victory—with Courtship—was highly popular. withdrawal of Madstone and Masterlode spoiled

The withdrawal of Madstone and Masterlode spoiled the second race, and left it as a practical walkover for King Crab, although at one time it was possible to get as good betting against King Crab as 7 to 5. He led all the way and won as he liked.

Two Bits was an even money favorite in the fifth race, and won as easily as King Crab had won. Fidello was second and Rex third. Colonel Ruppert's sonora (the filly by Hi Ban out of Refraction) had none of the speed which she repeatedly exhibited has year on a heavy track.

Most of W. C. Daly's horses seem to be somewhat out of form. Dalsyrian certainly did not run up to his record in the last race, in which he had considerable backing. He was unplaced. Walcott & Campbell's colt Bengal, the second choice, won with plenty in hand, Rosa H., the favorite, running second, and Vardee, the third choice, in third place.

NEWTON WINS THE LATONIA DERBY Cincinnati, May 21.-The opening day at Latonia vas the worst beginning that the Jockey Club has had for many seasons. The truck was a foot deep in sticky mud. In spite of all the unfavorable condi-tions, a large crowd-fully 7,000 people-turned out to witness the sport. Azra and Bashford (the Bashford Manor entry) were looked upon as certain Derby winners, and there was much disappointment when they were withdrawn. The first race was a surprise, Nero at 4 to 1 carrying off the purse with ease, while Rook Laidley, a strong favorite, finished last, ten lengths behind the bunch. In this race Queer Toy threw his rider, J. Morgan, in the backstretch, but the jockey was unhurt. The bookmakers' odds appalled the bet Miser-Thors, 117 %. (Murphy) 1 1-6 Out P. J. PROGRESS AT COLUMBIA COLLEGE.

HOW THE PROFESSORS WILL SPEND THEIR SUM-

MER VACATIONS-PROPOSED CHANGES. At the last meeting of the trustees of Columbia College the Committee on Buildings was authorized to select three architects, to act as a commission to lay out the new site of the institution, between One handred and sliteenth and One-hundred and swenti-eth sts., the Eoulevard and Amsterdam-ave. The committee selected Richard M. Hunt, Charles C. Haight and Charles F. McKim, who have consented to undertake the work. Professors Ware, Trowbridge and Frederick Law Olmsted have consented to act in an advisory capacity to these commissioners, and the Committee on Buildings has sent the following letter to the three architects, which explains the work they are expected to do, and in part the plans of the col-offers.

The area at command is approximately seventeen and one-half acres, in a rectangular plot 775 feet by 147 1.2 feet, bounded on all sides by wide streets, as shown in the accompanying map. The great spaces occupied to advantage by universities differently situated admonish the college that no part of this ground can be wasted. The only way to avoid wasting space is to proceed from the outset upon a well-considered plan.

can be wasted. The diagram of the proceed from the oniset upon a well-considered plan.

There are now upon these grounds extensive buildings, which must be occupied by the college, certainly for some years to come, until other and more suitable buildings, can be creeted. The presence of these buildings upon the site conditions the immediate development, but not the ultimate disposition of the plot.

The trustees have at present no fund with which to construct new buildings, but the college believes if can rely upon the ilberality of the citizens of New-York to meet immediate needs with reasonable promptness and to provide for constant growth.

The first building placed upon the new site will condition all which are to follow, first, by its situation, second, by its architecture.

It is essential, therefore, that such a study be made of the new site in its entirety as a preliminary to the location or planning of even a sinde building as will enable the frustees to enter upon the work of providing for immediate needs wisely and with due regard for the future. The first building to be erected should be part of a comprehensive plan which shall promise, when completed, the maximum of usefulness and the maximum of beauty.

The problem thus presented demands thoughtfoul

The problem thus presented demands thoughtful consideration from every point of view-practical, artistic and financial-and while it is to be freated coadly and comprehensively, it requires careful atomplishment of a result which can be secured in its skill and judgment obtainable. The trustees are persuaded that the buildings to be creeted for Columbia College on the new site are likely to be among the most noteworthy and the best known in the city The character of the site, its situation, its neighbor hood and its use all combine to give this assurance.

The trustees have therefore authorized their committee on buildings and grounds to appoint a commission to make this study. The committee have asked Professor Trowbridge and Professor Ware to act with them as an advisory committee, gentlemen well this advisory committee will assist both the comm on baildings and grounds and the commission in any way in their power; but the committee on buildings authoritative report which is desired.

A report is wanted which will show, as to the following points, alternative methods of developing the space at command, with the preferences of the commission and their reasons therefor.

The position of the buildings, assuming that all the space available for the purpose is made use of. This does not contemplate the location of particular. buildings, except as to such main features as the chapel, the library and the university hall; but rather the general arrangement of buildings upon the site without reference to their uses, and the proper distribution of quadrangles and open spaces.

The architectural conditions which should be ob-served, as for instance: The general style of archi-tecture: the height of the buildings; whether the whether the buildings should be isolated or continuor tectural features of the problem.

These points being determined, it will be possible for the trustees to ask the commission for advice upor this further point: Where building operations should hegin in preparation for immediate needs!

He hopes thus to get suggestions which may prove useful and valuable in connection with the institution over which he presides with such dignity and success.

A number of Columbia's professors will also spend a part of the summer and fall in Europe. According to the constitution of the college, each professor is entitled to dispose of every seventh year of service as h Professor Frank R. Goodnow, of the School of Political Science, will go aroud in a few month and will not return until 1805. In his absent the lectures on Administrative Law will b delivered by Dr. Victor M. Freund. Professor Francis M. Crocker, head of the department of electrical en-gineering, will also go to Europe this summer to study new adoptions and applications of electrical science is England and Germany. Professor Harry Thurston Peck professor of Latin, has also secured a six months' leave of absence, which he will spend in studying the excavations which have been made recently in Rome. On his way he will stop at Dublin and represent Columbia at the 300th anniversary of the intversity of that city. Professor Gotthell, professor of Oriental languages

Professor Gotthell, professor of Oriental languages, is to study old manuscripts at the National Library of Parts, while Professor Perry, professor of Sanscrit, will employ his time in a similar way at herlin. Professor Eggleston, of the School of Mines, will also sail for Europe June 4, in connection with his forthcoming publication on mineralogy. Dr. Lindley M. Keasbey, who studied at Strasburg, has been appointed an instructor in political science. Professor Mayo Smith, Professor Thomas R. Trice, sentor professor of English literature, and Dr. Clarence H. Young, who have been stadying abroad for a year, will resume their duties at the college in the fail.

From next fall a scilor in the School of Arts of folumbia will be allowed to spend his final year in the course of study leading to the Rachelor's degree in work in any of the university faculities. This plan, which shortens the graduate course one year, promises to be exceedingly popular. Numerous applications have been received from juniors in other colleges to be allowed to enter Columbia. The new discovery for discoving and removing discolurations from the cutiek, and bleaching and brightening the complexion. In experimenting in the laundry with a new bleach for fine fabrics it was discovered that all spots, freekles, tan and other discolurations were quickly removed from the hands and arms without the slightest injury to the skin. The discovery was submitted to experienced Dermatologists and Physicians who prepared for us the formula of the mavelous Derma-Royale. THERE NEVER WAS ANYTHING LIKE IT. It is perfectly harmless and so simple a child can use it. Apply at night—the improvement apparent after a simple application will surprise and delight you. It quickly dissolves and removes the worst forms of moth-patches, brown or liver spots, freekles, blackheads, bletches, allowness, redness, tan and every discoloration of the cutiels. One bottle completely removes and cures the most aggravated case and throughly clears, whitens and beautifes the complexion. It has never failed—it cannot rain, It is highly recommended by Physicians and its sure results warmen us in offering.
